

Two appointments with Architect@Work for Forme d'Acqua

Forme d'Acqua has been selected to participate in two editions of Architect@Work, the prestigious international event dedicated to the world of design and architecture.

Forme d'Acqua has been selected for two editions of Architect@Work with two separate projects; the company from Venice, specialized in the design and construction of fountains for indoor and outdoor spaces, will be present at the Berlin edition on November 7th and 8th and at Milan on November 14th and 15th.

Architect@Work is the most important event in Europe dedicated to the design and architecture of indoor and outdoor spaces, intended for designers, architects, engineers and professionals of the field. A real meeting point to exchange of ideas, with training sessions and seminars dedicated to specific topics, characterized by an international cut as it takes place, in different periods, in various European and non-European countries. Each edition has its own jury, which takes care of selecting and approving in advance the proposed projects, based on criteria of innovation and quality.

In Berlin, Forme d'Acqua will present Aegea, an interactive fountain from the Le Sirene collection.

The Sirens are a new concept of "smart" fountain, with a simple and essential design, conceived to be easily inserted into different contexts. A highly technological product, which can be managed from a smartphone or tablet, which can be included in the home automation system for centralized room management. The fountain interacts with those approaching, changing the speed of water and the intensity of light, generating emotions. In fact, it is equipped with RGB LED lighting, customizable in many variations of colours and a high fidelity audio system with which to listen to your favourite music.

Le Sirene are made of AISI316 stainless steel, water flows over unique surfaces, carefully crafted: selected precious marbles of artistic glass surfaces handmade in the island of Murano, guaranteed by the Vetro Artistico® Murano trademark.

In Milan instead there will be Luxury, the fountain presented in Venice during the last edition of The Venice Glass Week, in a renewed version. Luxury is an elegant fountain, with essential lines, which finds its strong point in the precious presence of Murano glass. In it the water slides along thin hollow steel pipes, wrapping in its path the Murano glass spheres handmade by Barbara Proverbio, glass designer and creator of unique jewels. The elegance of Luxury is found in the purity of the materials that compose it and in their relationship with light: the movement of water, illuminated by the LED plant of the fountain, is reflected on steel and Murano glass creating a play of light and really unique reflections.

Luxury was conceived by Simona M. Favrin, architect and designer who has been collaborating with Forme d'Acqua for years in projects involving water and precious materials.
